Thank you to students and directors for the overwhelming response in auditioning for The Heavens are Telling parts of Gabriel, Uriel, and Raphael.

We received 190 auditions, which were then sent to a panel of judges from across our state. Students were judged on tone quality, intonation, and rhythm. Judges then focused on selecting 4 voices for each part that they believed would work well together. Thank you for all of your submissions! Directors of accepted students have been notified.
